He began his career in the US Army, where he was an entertainer in Florida, Maryland, and Germany. He played the fiddle at the Erk Russell Camp Talent Show in Washington, D.C. He worked with Lucille Bremer as a duo before both settled in Nashville. Their partnership resulted in a string of hits including the No. 1 hit, "My Melancholy Baby", in 1946, and "I'm in Love Again", also a No. 1 hit in 1947. stimulating factor-mediated proliferation of human neuroblasts. Granulocyte-macrophage colony-stimulating factor (GM-CSF), a growth factor for granulocytes and macrophages, induces the proliferation of a cloned human CNS neuroblastoma cell line, NTERA-2. Proliferation of the NTERA-2 cells in serum-free medium was readily induced when they were cultured with GM-CSF alone. The optimal dosage of GM-CSF was determined to be 50 ng/ml. When NTERA-2 cells cultured with 50 ng/ml of GM-CSF were trypsinized and separated into single cells by micromanipulation, their sensitivity to GM-CSF was quite different depending on cell positions. The cells closer to the bottom of the culture dish were less sensitive to GM-CSF. These results suggest that GM-CSF would exert a chemotactic effect upon growing NTERA-2 cells, which thus induce the expansion of their own population by themselves. Furthermore, GM-CSF increased the proliferation of the NTERA-2 cells in the presence of a serum substitute. These results suggest that GM-CSF might participate in regulating the populations of neural cells in vivo.Q: MSDN 3e33713323
